The new World Wingsuit League (WWL) had its first competition in October; the WWL Grand Prix was an invitational speed competition in the Tianmen Mountains of China. The race course was approximately three-quarters of a mile in length, with a 2,600-foot vertical drop. Wingsuit pilots launched from the cliff top platform, made a sweeping turn around an anchored Red Bull hot-air balloon, then flew in a straight line down the mountain and under the tramway cable finish line.

The WWL was founded in 2012 by Iiro Seppanen and Frank Yang, co-owners of Pan Pacific Entertainment, a Hollywood-Based film investment, production, and event services company. www.worldwingsuitleague.com
